President Trump’s immigration executive orders, enforcement actions, and xenophobic threats directly impact members of our law school community.

They undermine the public mission of our university to ensure access to the talented pool of students and researchers that reflects the diversity in the State of California and the world.

They attack the ability of the university to fulfill its unique role as a site for the generation of knowledge and the free exchange of ideas among students, faculty, and staff of all nationalities, backgrounds, and creeds.

They threaten our values of diversity and inclusion, which ensure a vibrant democracy.

We oppose the executive orders and President Trump’s attacks on certain communities.

We are committed to maintaining the law school as a just and inclusive community.

BerkeleyLaw Faculty & Staff

Ian Haney Lopez
Rachel Stern
Savala Trepczynski
Elisabeth Semel
Rebecca Golberg
Leti Volpp
Edward Tom
Chris Kutz
Mallika Kaur
Trish Plunkett Hurley
Evelyn Borchert
Lucinda Sikes
David Oppenheimer
Laurel Fletcher
john a. powell
Charles Weisselberg
Jordan Diamond
Diana DiGennaro
Jeff Selbin
Natalie Golden
Vicky Plaut
Kathryn Abrams
Sarah Song
Steve Rosenbaum
Holly Doremus
David Lieberman Catie Cariaga
Catherine Crump
Meir Dan–Cohen
Ty Alper
Sue Schechter
Saira Mohamed
Emily Bruce
Jill Adams
Nancy Lemon
Alexa Koenig
Russell Robinson
Bob Berring
Ariana Ceja
Farrah Fanara
Justin McCrary
Audrey Whiting
Emily Best

Those participating in this effort do so in their individual capacities, and not on behalf of the University of California.

Poster By Rachelle Galloway-Popotas of the Haas Institute for a Fair and Inclusive Society.