

- INVITATION: HAAS INSTITUTE RELEASES -

“Opening the Door for Rent Control: Toward a Comprehensive Approach to Protecting California’s Renters”

The Haas Institute for a Fair and Inclusive Society of the University of California, Berkeley invites you to a press briefing on Wednesday, September 19 where members of the institute will discuss their latest research brief, “Opening the Door for Rent Control: Toward a Comprehensive Approach to Protecting California’s Renters.”

The brief finds that rent control, when applied with other housing policies, can prevent housing costs from spiraling out of control and forcing families to leave their neighborhoods while also allowing for the construction of much-needed housing developments.

- THE EVENT DETAILS ARE -

September 19, 10:30 a.m.

Greenlining Institute - Resistance Hall
360 14th St. Oakland, CA 94612

Speakers

Nicole Montojo is a Housing Research Analyst for the California Community Partnerships Program at the Haas Institute.

Dr. Stephen Barton, Ph.D. in City & Regional Planning from the University of California, Berkeley and former Housing Director for the City of Berkeley.

RSVP to haasinstitute@berkeley.edu

About the Haas Institute

The Haas Institute for a Fair and Inclusive Society at UC Berkeley is a hub of engaged scholars, researchers, strategic communicators, policymakers, and community partners working to advance belonging for all members of society.